SCOTT MCBRIEN YOUTH QUARTERBACK CAMP

Former University of Maryland star Scott McBrien is hosting a Quarterback "Get Better" Camp in Rockville, MD this January to help players take the "Next Step" in their development. Campers will have fun while learning the game of football from the offensive side of the ball. They will build confidence through physical drilling, training and mental preparedness and toughness.

The goal of our Youth Quarterback Camp is to teach the fundamentals, techniques, skills, motivation, and sportsmanship necessary for a young player to succeed at the quarterback position. Not only will the campers be schooled on offensive play but they will also learn how to read and dissect the strengths and weaknesses of defensive coverage.
